

PIONEERS

This issue of the Journal is dedicated to the following pioneers who have been constant source of inspiration.

There will be no end to the troubles of states, or the humanity itself, till philosophers become kings in this world, or till those we now call kings and rulers really and truly become philosophers, and political power and philosophy thus come into the same hands.

- Plato

Nature provides for mankind's need, not for his greed.

- Mahatma Gandhi

It is not how much we do, but how much love we put in the doing. It is not how much we give, but how much love we put in the giving.

- Mother Teresa

Am I not destroying my enemies when I make friends of them?

- Abraham Lincoln

I never teach my pupils. I only attempt to provide the conditions in which they can learn.

- Albert Einstein

Sometime we may learn more from a man's error than from his virtues.

- Longfellow

It is the mark of an educated man to look for precision in each class of things just so far as the nature of the subject admits.

- Aristotle

A tear drop on the cheek of time.

- Rabindra Nath Tagore on Taj Mahal

Experience teaches slowly and at the cost of mistakes.

- Froude
