

Pioneers

This issue of the Journal is dedicated to the following pioneers who have been constant source of inspiration.

- Throughout my life, I have always looked to Mahatma Gandhi as an inspiration, because he embodies the kind of transformational change that can be made when ordinary people come together to do extraordinary things. That is why his portrait hangs in my Senate office: to remind me that real results will come not just from Washington – they will come from the people.

- Barack Hussein Obama
President of U.S.A.

- Constant recitation of Gayatri Mantra is useful for healing of patients and welfare of souls. The recitation of Gayatri with the stable intelligence and peaceful heart has effect of removing dangers of troubling-times.

- Mahatma Gandhi

- A leader is dealer in hope.

- Napoleon Bonaparte

- Don't tell people how to do things, tell them what to do and let them surprise you with their results.

- George S. Patton

- To accomplish great things, we must not only act, but also dream, not only plan, but also believe.

- Anatole France

- We owe a lot to the Indians, who taught us how to count, without which no worthwhile scientific discovery could have been made.

- Albert Einstein

- Courage is not the absence of fear, but rather the judgement that something else is more important than fear.

- Ambrose Redmoon

- I had proven to myself that I could set a goal and, through willpower and being mentally tough, not only meet that goal but beat it.

- Michael Phelps
Winner of 6 Olympic gold medals in Athens and 8 gold medals in Beijing Olympic games in swimming
